FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Medical Web Technologies Founder and CEO Named Among the Who's Who in Ambulatory Surgery

Scituate, MA – December 9, 2009 – Medical Web Technologies today announced that the company's founder and CEO, Stephen Punzak, MD, has been named among the Who's Who in Ambulatory Surgery by SurgiStrategies Magazine. SurgiStrategies' annual Who's Who in Ambulatory Surgery Award honors the best and brightest in the Ambulatory Surgery Center (ASC) industry. This year individuals were recognized for their exceptional contributions to the ASC industry.

For the past 17 years Dr. Punzak has worked as an anesthesiologist for large tertiary hospitals and ambulatory surgery centers. It was from his experience on the "front lines" as an anesthesiologist and pain management specialist that, in partnership with Source Medical, he developed One Medical Passport, a perioperative workflow solution. Since its inception, it has been adopted by numerous ASCs nationwide, streamlining preop and day of surgery workflow, while simultaneously creating marked improvements in patient convenience and patient safety.

In addition to being a hands-on CEO of a rapidly growing company, Dr. Punzak still practices clinical anesthesia, noting that "this is where many of the company's best ideas for product development have come from."

According to SurgiStrategies, "When the call for nominations opened earlier this year for our eighth annual Who's Who in Ambulatory Surgery issue, our staff was overwhelmed by the enthusiastic responses from the ambulatory surgery center community. The nomination process brought to light some exceptional people and facilities."
